DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

Is Balloting for Presidential Candidate

No Choice Made at Four O'Clock This Morning—Platform Adopted After Several Changes—Gold Plank Stricken Out—Convention Marked by Great Disorder

St. Louis, July 9.—The convention was still in session at 4 o'clock this morning. No nomination had been made.

St. Louis, July 8.—The crush around the doors and inside the convention hall at 8 o'clock to night was greater than at any previous session. It was something rarely paralleled at any national convention. Extras spread news over town that the nomination was to be expected to night and the crowd was greater than at any previous session. At two or three entrances pressure was so great lines were broken and many persons without tickets forced their way into the hall.

It was a crowd that, judging from prevailing symptoms, came with the full intention of participating in the proceedings, for cheers, applause and comment were forthcoming on every occasion. The first genuine reception of the evening was given Hill of New York, who made his first appearance in the hall.

At 8 o'clock there was not a vacant seat in the vast auditorium. Outside the crowd was even greater than within the Coliseum. Streets on the four sides of the Coliseum were impassable. Long after the hall was filled the crowd pressed against the entrance loath to give up hope of getting in.

A series of energetic thumps on the preceding officer's table were given by Chairman Clark at 8:03 in an endeavor to call the convention to order. As Clark stood at the desk Senator Daniel of Virginia, chairman of the resolutions committee, made his way to his side with a copy of the platform in his hand. Without delay it was announced the report of the committee would be received. At this statement the convention seized the opportunity to vent its satisfaction at the unanimous report to be made. A great cry went up. Many delegates jumped to their feet and the first demonstration of the night session occurred. Growing impatient at delay, Daniel began reading of the report.

The convention composed itself and warning had to be given by the reading clerk that quiet must be preserved. Confusion continued, however, and reading of the resolutions was scarcely audible beyond the speaker's platform.

Daniels concluded at 8:55 and when it was observed he had ceased reading the convention broke into cheers. Daniels moved the previous question on adoption of the platform. It was adopted by a viva voce vote.

Chairman Clark then put a motion to adopt the report and another viva voce vote carried it.

Led by Temporary Chairman Williams, the crowd roared applause again and again, while the band played "Hail Columbia."

The clerk commenced the roll call for nomination of candidates for president. Alabama yielded to New York.

Martin W. Littleton of New York took the stand amid ringing applause to place Judge Parker in nomination.

Littleton was given close attention. For the first time during the session there was silence in the hall. His speech was received with alternate cheers and outbursts of approving laughter, few points being lost on his audience.

A terrific outburst of cheering followed Littleton's remark about Parker: "If you ask me why he has been silent, I answer because he has not attempted to be the master of his party, but is content to be its servant."

All that had happened in the convention up to the time Littleton concluded his address, multiplied many times, was almost as nothing compared to the hurricane that broke out when he mentioned the name "Alton B. Parker." On the part of Parker delegates it was a revelation in the passion of politics. Like one man they sprang up in their chairs with speech seconding the nomination of Parker.

Carmack was interrupted by cries of "Hearst" from the galleries, which the great body of the convention energetically disapproved. Carmack concluded at 10:15. The galleries seized the opportunity for a shout and a disturbance reigned for some minutes, while Chairman Clark pounded for order.

When California was called E. M. Delmas was recognized and he took the platform to speak for William R. Hearst. His title of the "gentleman from Nebraska" called forth an enthusiastic tribute.

HEARST DEMONSTRATION. Delmas' address closed with the name "William Randolph Hearst." This was the signal for cheers. A large portrait of Hearst was taken to the platform and smaller pictures displayed throughout the hall. California led a parade around the hall, followed by Arizona, Nevada, Iowa, South Dakota, Washington and Wyoming. The Illinois banner was carried into the line, but the majority of that delegation did not follow it. The band played "America" and "Dixie," as it had done for Parker, and the demonstration went on.

Again and again the Hearst men marched around the hall, cheers greeting them at every step. Fully a dozen times the line completed the circuit and then the speaker's platform and the other states massed their emblems at the foot of the steps, the men who bore them cheering and waving them with great energy.

A young woman wearing a white gown rose in Section L and waved a small flag. She brought to her side fifty other people, who joined in the tribute, and for a time she was the heart of the storm center. When she sat down the end began to come. The flag of Illinois was the first to resume its place on the floor and the others followed. When a half hour had elapsed Senator Bailey of Texas took the presiding officer's chair and rapped for order. It was some time before quiet was restored.

Colorado was called and Thomas J. O'Donnell seconded the nomination of Parker.

When O'Donnell referred in complimentary terms to "the great leader of the past two campaigns," there was a demonstration in which the name of Bryan was heard above the uproar. There was, he said, no need of protestation of loyalty to the last two Democratic platforms.

He invited "the prodigals who had been feeding on husks" back into the fold, for, he said, "we need all kinds of Democrats in this campaign."

His mention of Parker's name was greeted with shouts and applause. "Colorado once more joins hands with New York," he concluded, "and the echo comes back, 'Parker, popular rights and victory.'"

Walter S. Cummings was then recognized and took the platform to second the nomination of Parker.

J. Irving Hady of Delaware followed Cummings and nominated Judge Gray. He began by saying: "Delaware offers to you her noblest, bravest and best, and a cheer went up led by the Delaware delegation."

When Florida was called John S. Bears seconded Hearst's nomination.

Moses Wright of Georgia seconded Parker's nomination.

Idaho did not respond to the call and when "Illinois" was named Clarence Darrow, of that state, seconded the nomination of Hearst. He made this fact plain at the outset and at the name of Hearst the galleries vented their enthusiasm.

When he said, "It seems to be fate that the men who once settled the Democratic ship shall once more be placed in power," there were cheers and hisses.

"The Democracy of Jefferson; Democracy of Bryan," was a phrase from Darrow which struck the convention and was greeted with a cheer. Darrow's speech culminated the wearying crowd and he was frequently applauded.

J. W. Kern responded when Indiana was called, delivering a strong speech seconding Parker's nomination.

Iowa was then called. A delegate sprang to his chair and declared a second to Hearst. But Sam S. Wright, of Tipton, Iowa, mounted his chair and shouted: "On behalf of the unthought and unpurchasable delegates of Iowa—"

At this point a rush was made for Wright by some of his colleagues in the delegation. It became evident at once that trouble was on. Wright sprang forward on the chairs to get out of reach of his antagonists. An Arkansas delegate across the aisle reached out his hand and motioned him on. The convention was in an uproar. One of the Hearst Iowa delegates rushed forward to the platform. He was at once followed by Wright between two men. There was a whispered conference with Chairman Bailey and Wright secured recognition.

He thundered forth: "I am proud of the fact that the great party to which I belong ordinarily believes in free speech."

This struck the convention and Wright was accorded attention. He said: "On behalf of that section of Iowa which sends Democrats to congress—on behalf of the Iowa Democrats who did not receive their political education from Col's Financial School—I second the nomination of Judge Parker of New York."

Wright at once left the platform amid great applause and confusion. He proceeded down the aisle to his seat. His colleagues, however, refused to allow him to take his seat. He was called many hard names and finally had to be protected by an officer and was given a seat by the Georgia delegation. The incident was one of the liveliest of the session and for a moment promised to become sensational.

Chairman Weaver of Iowa demanded a hearing, but was not recognized. He asserted his colleagues wished to remove Wright as the honorary vice president of the delegation from Iowa. Then Chairman Bailey, after securing order, recognized Rhinehart of Iowa.

"The gentleman who just left the platform," said Rhinehart, "cast aspersions upon the delegates from Iowa. I desire to cast the aspersions back into his teeth." Rhinehart denied for himself and all others of the Iowa delegation that any money had been received by them to induce them to cast their votes for any candidate. Rhinehart then delivered a speech seconding Hearst's nomination.

There was soon a sequel to the Wright incident. The delegation held a meeting and voted to unsent Wright as the Iowa member of the committee to notify the presidential nominee. In the words of one of the delegates, the action was taken because of the "imputations cast on the delegation" by Wright.

J. G. Johnson seconded the Hearst nomination in a carefully prepared speech.

David Overmeyer of Kansas made a speech nominating General Miles.

A motion to limit seconding speeches to four minutes was put to vote and carried. J. W. Orr of Kansas and Thomas H. Ball of Texas seconded Parker's nomination.

Maine gave way to Missouri and Champ Clark took the platform and nominated Senator Francis M. Cockrell of Missouri for the presidency. Clark first mentioned his candidate, designating him as "Old Cockrell," which brought out great cheering.

Nebraska carried its standard over to Missouri. Kansas also moved to the same position. The hall was one mass of waving flags.

Missouri's standard was carried to the platform, creating a fierce renewal of cheering and flag waving.

The demonstration continued twenty minutes and when Clark concluded he was again enthusiastically cheered.

Mayor Collins of Boston then nominated Richard Olney for president.

Olney's name was heartily cheered.

The chairman of the Minnesota delegation seconded Parker's nomination, but another delegate of that state on behalf of the majority of the delegation seconded Hearst's nomination.

Mississippi and Montana seconded Parker.

When Nebraska was called there were loud cheers for Bryan. After many calls Bryan mounted a chair and received an ovation.

Bryan announced Nebraska yielded to Wisconsin. David S. Rose nominated Wall of Wisconsin.

Rose took the New York delegation to task severely for presenting Parker.

"The nation has been calling on New York for months to tell us what are the principles of their candidate," he rang out, "but he has said nothing."

Loud applause and cries from the galleries was the response.

Rose proceeded with an arraignment of Parker's candidacy in such strong terms that a point of order was raised by a Kansas delegate, who yelled amid the uproar, when Chairman Bailey asked him to state it: "The gentleman is not speaking in behalf of any candidate, but in general arraignment of the Democratic party."

Bailey overruled the point of order with the statement that it was not within the province of the chair to pass upon what a speaker should say.

Rose aroused great antagonism and some hisses owing to his criticism of some other candidates without naming them and grew rapidly unpopular and was interrupted with cries and stamping, but he persisted and finally amid much confusion named Edward C. Wall as Wisconsin's candidate.

Cole of North Dakota nominated John Sharp Williams.

M. J. Ryan of Philadelphia, seconded the nomination of Parker.

John J. Fitzgerald of Rhode Island, seconded Hearst's nomination.

Senator Tillman seconded the nomination of Parker.

THE PLATFORM

Principles of Democratic Party Adopted by the National Convention.

St. Louis, July 8.—The following is the platform adopted by the Democratic national convention to night:

"We, the delegates of the Democratic party of the United States in national convention assembled, declare our devotion to the essential principles of the Democratic faith which brings us together in party communion.

"Under their local self-government and national unity and prosperity were alike established. They underlaid our independence, the structure of our free republic, and every Democratic extension from Louisiana to California and Texas to Oregon, which preserves faithfully in all states the tie between taxation and representation.

"They yet inspire the masses of our people, guarding jealously their rights and liberties and cherishing their fraternity, peace and orderly development. They remind us of our duties and responsibilities as citizens and impress upon us, particularly at this time, the necessity of reform and rescue of the administration of the government from headstrong, arbitrary and spasmodic methods which distract business by uncertainty, and pervade the public mind with dread, distrust and perturbation.

"The application of these fundamental principles to living issues of the day constitutes the first step toward the assured peace, safety and progress of our nation.

"The freedom of the press, of conscience and of speech; equality before the law of all citizens; the right of trial by jury; the freedom of the person defended by writ of habeas corpus; the liberty of personal contract untrammelled by summary laws; supremacy of civil over military authority; a well disciplined militia; the separation of church and state; economy in expenditures; low taxes, that labor may be lightly burdened; the prompt and sacred fulfillment of public and private obligations; fidelity to treaties, peace and friendship with all nations and entangling alliances with none; absolute acquiescence in the will of the majority, the vital principles of republics—these are the doctrines which the Democracy has established as the basis of the nation and they should be constantly invoked, preached, resorted to and enforced:

"1. Large reductions can readily be made in the annual expenditures of the government without impairing the efficiency of any branch of the public service, and we shall insist upon the strictest economy and frugality compatible with vigorous and efficient civil, military and naval administration as a right of the people too clearly to be denied or withheld.

"2. Enforcement of honesty in public service, and to that end thorough legislative investigation of those executive departments already known to team with corruption, as well as other departments suspected of harboring corruption, and the punishment of ascertained corrupt officials without fear of favor to persons.

"The deliberate and persistent refusal of both the senate and house of representatives to permit such investigations to be made by either branch of congress demonstrated that only by change in the executive and in the house of representatives can complete exposure, punishment and correction be obtained.

"In broader furtherance of that end the federal government should not permit itself to be robbed by entering into contracts with convicted trusts or unlawful combinations in restraint of interstate trade, existing in violation of law. We believe one of the best methods of procuring economy and honesty in public service is to have public officials from the occupant of the white house to the lowest of them, return as nearly as may be, to the Jeffersonian simplicity of living.

"3. We favor the nomination and election of a president trained in the ways of the constitution, who shall set his face sternly against executive usurpation of legislative and judicial functions whether the usurpate be rules under the guise of executive construction or existing laws, or whether it take refuge in a tyrant's pleas of necessity or superior wisdom.

"We favor the enactment and administration of laws, giving labor and capital impartially their just rights. Capital and labor ought not to be enemies. Each is necessary to the other. Each has its rights, but the rights of labor are certainly no less 'vested,' no less 'sacred,' and no less 'unalienable' than the rights of capital. Constitutional guarantees are violated whenever any citizen is denied the right to labor, acquire and enjoy property or residence where interest or inclination may determine. Any denials thereof by individuals, organizations or government should be summarily rebuked and punished. We deny the right of any executive to disregard or suspend any constitutional privilege or limitation. Obedience to laws and respect for other requirements are alike the supreme duty of the citizen and official. The military should be used only to support and to maintain the law. We unqualifiedly condemn its employment for the summary banishment of citizens without trial, or for the control of elections.

"We approve the measure which passed the United States senate in 1895, but which the Republican congress has ever since re-

TRIO OF DESPERADOES

Three Men Whose Crimes Rival Those of Car Barn Bandits Held by Chicago Police

Chicago, July 8.—Three men whose crimes are said to rival those of the car barn bandits, Vandine, Neldemeyer and Marx, are being held by the police here while an investigation is being made of assaults, holdups and train robberies the prisoners are accused of.

The existence of the band, whose members say they are the original "automobile trio," became known through the confession of one of them, Truman H. Wilkinson, who lies at the point of death with a bullet wound received after he and his companions had held up and shot J. C. Meller, secretary of a labor union. Wilkinson's confession implicates his two companions, Charles Pheloy and William Erving, who were surprised and captured in a room. Later the two men also confessed. The prisoners admitted committing robbery of the Northern Pacific train at Beartooth, Mont., recently, but said nothing of a shooting which took place in connection. In his confession Pheloy spoke of having committed numerous robberies, one of which was in a jewelry store at Waukegan, Ill., $5,000 worth of jewelry having been secured. Pheloy boasts of having lived in style at Chicago hotels. All three prisoners told of an alleged fortune of $5,000 buried by them in Indiana.

NUMEROUS INFLUENCES

AFFECTED TRADE AND INDUSTRY THIS WEEK

Vacations, Shut Downs and Quiet Distributive Demand Cause the Usual Summer Dullness in Business.

New York, July 8.—Bradstreet's review of trade says: "Trade and industry have been at a low ebb this week, reflecting vacation influences, summer shutdowns and generally quiet distributive demand. The chief interest, of course, centers in the crop situation and irregular movements of securities and of prices of staples by reports of excessive moisture in the winter wheat belt and too cool weather for corn. Railway earnings confirm earlier report of good June results in a probable increase of 3 per cent in gross earnings. Quiet has very generally ruled in all leading industries. The lumber trade is rather quiet as a whole. Eastern shoe manufacturers report business rather quiet.

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week were $75,000 bushels, against 2,380,000 bushels, against 1,524,000 a year ago.

Corn exports for the week were 615,000 bushels, against 1,524,000 a year ago.

DUN'S REPORT. New York, July 8.—Dun's review says: "Midsummer quiet prevails in mercantile lines and the past week has witnessed much idle machinery at manufacturing plants, yet the tenor of reports from leading cities indicates increasing confidence in the future. A combination of reduced output and good weather for distribution of reasonable merchandise has improved the situation by contracting stocks of goods in the hands of jobbers and retailers. Collections at the end of the fiscal year were a little better than anticipated. Transporting lines are more active and show an increase of 4 per cent in railway earnings compared with June, 1903. Quotations of iron and steel products average slightly lower, although the markets are almost normal. Some increase in inquiry and for cotton goods at first hands has not resulted as yet in any definite expansion of trade. More new lines of woollens have been opened, but others are withheld because of the clothing strikes. New England manufacturers of shoes report western jobbers are responding very slowly to the sample.

Failures this week 206 in the United States, against 194 last year.

BANK CLEARINGS. New York, July 8.—Total bank clearings compiled by Bradstreet's for the past week were $1,865,580,705, a decrease of 5.6 per cent compared with corresponding week last year.

There is great difficulty in getting experienced teachers and many of the school boards are holding back engaging teachers in the hope of getting experienced teachers before the schools actually open. There are thirty school districts in McLean county and some of these have engaged but one or two teachers.

Washington, July 8.—Minister Powell reports to the state department by cable from Port au Prince, Haiti, that the German charge, Doctor Zimmerer, has been unsuccessful in attempting to negotiate a trade treaty with the Haitian government similar to that concluded between France and Haiti and is very indignant thereat.

in the real sense and in the slang sense will be an occasion of delight to you if you have laid in a generous lot of biscuit, crackers, tinned meats or fish (ham, tongue, salmon, sardines) ever to be had in this supply store for our friends on an outing bent. Understand, these goods are all right the whole year around; note too, that our prices are not raised for holiday merry-making.

MOTHER AND CHILD

Reunited After Separation of Several Years—Taken From Home of Luxury to Fisherman's Hut.

Pike County Republican: From a home of luxury with those who loved her in Chicago, to a fisherman's hut on the bank of the Illinois river at Valley City, with a mother whom she had forgotten and a step-father she had never seen, was the experience of pretty little Bernestine Hess last week.

The child is the daughter of Mrs. Martha Hess, who a few years ago secured a divorce from her husband in the Pike county circuit court. She about that time gave her only child, the baby of this story, to Mrs. Dr. Skinner, of Griggsville. Adoption proceedings were never entered into, and the arrangement was made by verbal agreement. Rev. Arthur Sangston, who soon after became the pastor of a Griggsville church, and his wife, saw and became attached to the child while it lived at the Skinner home. They had no children of their own and after a time Mrs. Skinner consented to let them have the baby, then not more than 2 years of age. The Sangstons afterwards moved to Mt. Sterling, and in April of this year, the wife died in that city. The body was taken by the husband to their former home in Milwaukee for interment, and during the trip the little adopted daughter was left at the home of Mrs. Sangston's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Roster, of Chicago, the former a wealthy retired army officer. The Rosters, at first sight loved the child, and when Ray Sangston returned from his sad journey to Milwaukee they were so persistent in their appeal, that he finally consented to leave the child with them. She remained there until Wednesday of last week. All her early life, unpleasant at best, had been forgotten. She was a bright and beautiful child, and the baby education had been commenced. The refining influences were making her a little lady to the manor born.

In the meantime, the mother, Mrs. Hess, had remarried to a man named Thrasher. They lived at Valley City, and the occupation of the husband was that of the ordinary inhabitant of a river town, their home life was the same, their associations and their thoughts were the same.

Remembering the child, Bernestine, in its new home in Chicago, thoughts which may or may not best be described, entered the mother's mind, and a short time ago she consulted Col. Edward Yates, of Pittsfield, and habens corpus proceedings were instituted through the Chicago courts to secure possession of the little one.

The Rosters had been reluctant to give up the child, but did not contest the proceedings of the court, which resulted from the mother's decision to secure her.

Col. Edward Yates went to Chicago on Monday of last week as the attorney for Mrs. Thrasher, went to the Foster home and secured the little one. The parting between the child and its new found parents was most affecting. All the sacred ties of home that the child knew were left behind, and it started on a future of which it could form no conception.

The mother met Colonel Yates at the station in Valley City Wednesday night of last week, received the child, and the pathetic chapter is closed—to the public.

GOLF IN NEW ZEALAND

And now they are playing golf in New Zealand—the native Maori men and women are playing and playing well—the best course is owned by the natives, and the present champion is a native, Mr. Kurupe Taraka, whose wife is the most skilled among the Maori women.

Whence comes the Maori, the most interesting of all native races? His name conveys nothing, it means "indigenous" merely. Some trace him to the fighting Jew, who defended the Temple. However this may be, undoubtedly he goes far back, for his language contains Baluchi words, and he has words and customs still extant on the shores of the Persian gulf. Apparently, some of the early wanderers joined forces, overran it, and, over moving, passed on to populate the sunny Pacific archipelago. From these colonists sprang the handsome Samoan, with the angelic disposition, the fierce Solomon Islander, and the Marquesan, whose women the globe-traveler says are handsomest among mortals. Still moving, the Hawaiian Islands were reached and peopled, and here were planned the great migrations to New Zealand, which were carried out in double canoes with a deck house. Think of it, ye stay-at-homes; these navigators set out in canoes to compass a journey that now requires seventeen days steaming, and merely in the hope of finding land!—Outing for July.

AN OLD TIME TROTTER

Huxham, Well Known Racing Gelding Will Be Campaigned This Season—Has Wonderful Record.

Galesburg, Ill., July 8.—The 17-year-old trotting gelding Huxham will be campaigned again in 1904. Out at the mile track he is receiving his daily work from his old-time trainer, Bill Crensy, of Quincy, and he is the most interesting horse at the track.

There is nothing remarkable about his breeding, for he was sired by Nest Egg (2:20 3/4), a son of Air-bow (2:28), by Green's Bashaw (2:35), while his dam was Haggar by Woodford Mambrino, Jr., son of Woodford Mambrino (2:21 1/2).

Huxham is a chestnut gelding, and was foaled in 1887. He commenced racing in 1890 as a 3-year-old, and he has raced every year since then, fourteen consecutive seasons in all, and if he does not die, will race again this year. Bill Crensy drove him in his first race, and they have been together ever since. One western bootlegger has predicted that when the auspicious moment arrives Huxham and Crensy, while coming down the stretch at the head of their field, will suddenly disappear into space and fly to some other world to continue their career for the edification of its inhabitants.

At the risk of being tedious, we present below a summary of Huxham's racing career, for in no other way can its remarkableness be made apparent:

Year.	No. of Races.	Am't Won.
1890	5	$185
1891	12	1,375
1892	12	1,075
1893	7	575
1894	15	900
1895	9	925
1896	5	200
1897	12	1,100
1898	9	535
1899	7	560
1900	12	1,525
1901	20	1,625
1902	11	575
1903	8	710

Total.....114.....$12,025

Naturally, Huxham's career has been a checkered one. Some one has said that when he first commenced campaigning, that was before a horse's gait was determined in the rules, Huxham would trot twenty feet and run thirty yards, and repeat the operation till the mile was finished, but as the years sped on, the longer became the distance he could trot, until now he goes at it like a horse that never knew differently. A mathematician has determined by the use of sundry curves and angles, together with a foot rule, compass, plumb line, etc., that Huxham will reach the 2-minute mark some time in the twenty-second century.

Huxham has started in every state from Texas to New York, in all kinds of races, from one heat to eleven, all distances from half a mile to a mile and a half, and on all sorts of tracks from the kind that run around the sand hills in Kansas to the Grand circuit track at Memphis.

The year book credits him with winning 109 heats in 2:30 or better, but there are lots more that were never recorded. In most of the seasons Huxham was never behind the money, and with about fifteen exceptions he has captured a piece of the pie in all his starts.

Crensy thinks he can beat the 2:15 trotters out west this season.

Huxham has been seen on the local fair ground track many times, and is well known among local horsemen.

THE WHEAT CROP

The continued wet weather is becoming a serious matter and grave fears are entertained for the safety of the wheat crop. It is now in the midst of harvest and so far there has been scarcely any weather suitable for the work, and there is danger for the grain both out and in. However, we are not in as bad a condition as the people of Kansas City, Topeka and other western points.

Jacksonville, Ill., Aug. 24, 1901. For twelve years I have suffered from sweet diabetes and have spent hundreds of dollars with various doctors, with but little benefit. I was recommended to try a bottle of Texas Wonder, Hall's Great Discovery, and will obediently testify to the public that it did me more good than all things else put together and am altogether another man. I have persuaded many of my friends to try it.

REHEARING ASKED

Partello Case Is Up Again—Petition Filed in Supreme Court.

Springfield, July 8.—William Partello Thursday filed a petition in the supreme court for a rehearing of his case against the state of Illinois for $25,000. The case was recently reviewed by the court, and a decision in favor of the state was handed down.

Partello's fight against the state has been a long one. He seeks to recover money alleged to be due for work done on the state reformatory at Joliet. At the session of the legislature in 1900 a bill for the amount claimed was passed, but was afterward vetoed by Governor Yates.

Partello filed a petition in the circuit court of Sangamon county asking a writ of mandamus directed against State Auditor McCullough to compel him to issue a warrant for the amount claimed. Judge Robert T. Shibley, who heard the petition, denied it and an appeal to the supreme court was taken.

"It was alleged that Governor Yates first signed the bill and after it had been sent to the office of the secretary of state with his approval it was withdrawn and disapproved. In passing on this point the supreme court said that the governor could do as he pleased with the bill so long as it was in his office. The court also disapproved of the practice of hearing oral evidence in such proceedings.

CURED OF CHRONIC DIARRHOEA AFTER TEN YEARS OF SUFFERING

"I wish to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mrs. Mattie Burge, of Martinsville, Va. "I suffered from chronic diarrhoea for ten years and during that time tried various medicines without obtaining any permanent relief. Last summer one of my children was taken with cholera morbus, and I procured a bottle of this remedy. Only two doses were required to give her entire relief. I then decided to try the medicine myself, and did not use all of one bottle before I was well and I have never since been troubled with that complaint. One cannot say too much in favor of that wonderful medicine." This remedy is for sale by all leading druggists.

It is Not Always June

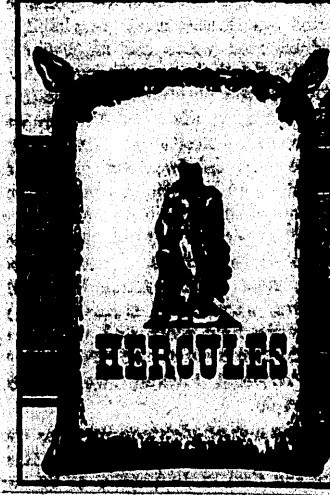

The man who said "In time of peace prepare for war" was a shrewd business manager. No better time in the whole year than to day to fill your bin with "Ideal" coal. These hot, sweltering days are reminders of the zero weather that's due here later on—and, confidentially, Ideal coal is a mighty good investment at present prices. While we ourselves might quite naturally be prejudiced about Ideal coal, we don't ask you to trust our judgment. The hundreds who have used it in Jacksonville, and will now so no other, declare it to be the hottest, purest, most dependable soft coal that ever left the mine. We guarantee it. We know it will suit you to perfection. We know you'll thank your stars next winter for having filled your bin right now. 11c per bushel or $2.75 per ton cash for July delivery. OLD TIMES COME AGAIN.

It was quite amusing to some of us to read yesterday's Journal the proceedings of the city council on the water question.

That it should require any one from Chicago to tell our people of the capacity of the south Mauvais-terre valley as a water shed or reservoir also seems funny. Probably there were others who thought or talked about that project, but about 1883 Mr. Wm. Ratskin, then superintendent of water works, and by an alderman and mayor of Jacksonville urged in strong terms the construction of a dam from bluff to bluff at the present pumping station and the condemning and utilizing of the land south and east of there for reservoir purposes.

This plan contemplates taking the "Wilson" land and changing the waverly road to the present dam of the impounding reservoir, thereby also saving the water now wasted by running from the present water way off through the valley and the creek in times of high water.

Ex-Alderman and Ex-Water Commissioner Abram Wood has continued for a long time that an adequate supply of water for the city could be obtained on Mr. Ratskin's plan. It has the merit of much less cost than the river plan, and it might be possible for the city to raise year by year enough money to carry the matter through, and not put the city in the hands of any water company.

I am told that a survey of some sort was made, perhaps by Mr. Olmsted, who is probably more acquainted with the subject in all its bearings than the writer.

Just returned from renting. They have been coming in and going have some one else make a good large payment on a piano so that only need to fix up the balance and call it yours. Come in and see them.

Think carefully over the park question by Tuesday and cast your vote for the benefit of the people, who so much need just that kind of an enterprise. The sum each person will have to pay will be insignificant and the pleasure it will afford will be great. Two mills is a small sum to ask for on a thousand dollars worth of property. The tax will be but 40 cents, and that any person will be willing to pay to secure such a needed improvement. The Journal is in favor of the plan and hopes the people will take the same view of it. The cost will be slight to each individual and the happiness it will confer will be vastly greater.

We need enterprise in Jacksonville which will bring people here and make the place attractive, and a good park is one thing which will be sure to draw others from neighboring cities and towns. The park commission ask the people to vote the small tax of two mills next Tuesday and trust it will meet with favor. The sum for each will be so small that no one will feel it and the good to the community will be great.

MARKHAM STATION.

Wahash carpenters are preparing to rebuild the station at Markham. It will be built of wood and will consist of a waiting room, baggage room and office. The dimensions will be 16 by 24 feet and the whole will be surrounded by an eight foot platform. The building will occupy the site of the former station.

Several months ago the station was destroyed by fire and for some time it was a mooted question whether it would be rebuilt. The citizens of that locality will be glad to know that a new station is to be erected.

RAILROADS UPHELD.

Washington, July 8.—As a result of investigation, allowances made by the Union Pacific to Peavy & Co.'s elevators at Council Bluffs, Iowa, the interstate commerce commission to day upheld the railroad's construction. The commission holds the compensation paid by the railroad for elevator or transfer service not unreasonable; that the Union Pacific has a right to perform work itself or have it done by others; that injury or detriment resulting to rival carriers under the arrangements is something that the law does not seek to prevent.

SURVIVORS PICKED UP.

Leith, Scotland, July 8.—Nineteen more survivors of the wrecked steamer Norge were picked up from a boat by a sailing ship and landed on Faroe Island.

FIRE LOSSES.

Marshalltown, Iowa, July 8.—Practically the entire business district of Roland, Story county, was destroyed by fire. Loss, $30,000.

THE PARK QUESTION.

It will be conceded on all sides that Jacksonville needs a park and it will be conceded that a fairly good start has been made. Tuesday, the 12th, the people will be asked to vote a small tax to support this excellent system. This will amount to a trifle in each case; a small fraction of the good it will do. The cost to each individual will be wholly insignificant and the benefits immense. For instance, a man having a home worth $500 will pay but 20 cents a year. A house worth $750 will pay but 30 cents a year. Surely such a burden will not be felt. The Journal believes this will be wise on the part of the city and hopes the measure will carry by a large majority.

The polling places are already announced and they will be open from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m.

To mothers of suffering daughters I will explain a successful home treatment. If you decide to continue it will only cost about 12 cents a week to guarantee a cure. Tell other sufferers of it, that is all I ask. If you are interested write now and tell your suffering friends of it. Address Mrs. M. Summers, Box 406, Notre Dame, Ind.

FUNERALS

CINCEBEAUX.

Funeral services over the remains of Edward S. Cincebeaux were held at the residence of Mrs. Mary L. Kackman Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends. They had loved and respected him in life and in death gathered to pay their last tribute.

The impressive services were in charge of Rev. E. B. Rogers, of the Central Baptist church of Springfield. Mr. Rogers read from the Scripture part of the fourteenth chapter John, "Let not your heart be troubled; ye believe in God, believe also in me. In my Father's house are many mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go to prepare a place for you I will come again." He delivered a forceful sermon, full of comfort for the bereaved family and friends and touched on the earnestness of had approved of his death. The purpose with which the deceased confronted him in life.

A choir consisting of Miss Bertha Anderson, Mrs. Richardson, Dr. Lovell and Frank Plouer, with Mrs. Lottie Greenleaf as accompanist, sang feelingly "Come Unto Me" and other appropriate hymns.

The floral tributes were especially profuse and beautiful, including many magnificent pieces. Among them were a beautiful piece sent by the Steamboat company of Peoria, for which Mr. Cincebeaux was press agent, and a floral figure, "30," sent by the newspaper men of Peoria. They were cared for by Mrs. F. M. Coard, Miss Isabel Baldwin, Miss Hannah Babenhausen, Miss Minnie Weisz and Floyd Spiker, assisted by a committee from Invincible camp, No. 14, K. of M., of Peoria.

At the conclusion of the services at the residence, the remains were conveyed to Jacksonville cemetery and were there laid to rest, the bearers being Capt. E. Schofield, Corporal Slagle, Lieutenant Lohmar, George W. Davis, Green Littrell and H. C. Clement.

Troop "G." First Cavalry, of which Mr. Cincebeaux was a member, was represented at the funeral by Corporal Harry Slagle; the Steamship company was represented by Capt. E. Schofield, of the steamer "Peoria," and Invincible camp, No. 14, K. of M., of Peoria, was represented by Lieut. R. L. Lohmar, H. T. Crandall, J. B. Schafer and H. Flagge. Remains, No. 12, of this city, attended in a body. Others from out of the city were: J. S. Organ and daughters, Miss Grace and Mrs. T. B. Toney, of Virden; Mr. and Mrs. W. Ramsey, of Auburn; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Handlin, of Mt. Pulaski; Mr. and Mrs. G. C. WERE DROWNED IN A CISTERN

MOTHER AND CHILD MEET SAD FATE

Mrs. Harmon Werris Residing Near Chapin Goes to Rescue of Son and Both Lives Are Lost—Coroner's Inquest.

One of the saddest accidents in the history of the county occurred Friday morning when Mrs. Cora Werris, wife of Harmon Werris, of the vicinity of Chapin, and a 2-year-old son were drowned in a cistern at the family home. The child accidentally fell into the water and it is supposed that the mother in trying to rescue the little one also slipped in and was drowned.

According to the story of Emma Vannier, who is employed in the Werris household, the two children of the family, aged 2 and 3 years, respectively, were playing about the cistern, the fourteen inch square opening of which was loosely covered with two planks, and were throwing grass and stones into the water. While they were thus engaged the younger of the boys, Glen, evidently became overbalanced and fell to his death in the water below. Miss Vannier, who was at work in the house, was attracted to the yard by the screams of the older boy, who said his brother had fallen in the water. She immediately rushed to notify the neighbors and secure assistance, and Martin Wohler, who was at work about 200 yards away, was the first to respond. Reaching his head down into the opening of the cistern as far as he could he saw the boy floating in the water, evidently caught on a board or some other floating object, and grasping the clothing by his hand, drew the lifeless body to the surface.

Mr. Werris, who was visiting at the home of his father some distance away, was sent for, and upon his arrival inquired for his wife, whose absence had not been noticed. A search of the premises and the neighborhood was made without results, and finally poles were secured and the cistern probed. In this way the lifeless body of the woman was discovered.

There were no witnesses to the terrible tragedy unless it was the 3-year-old boy, and nothing could be learned from him in regard to it. Miss Vannier testified that some time previous to 11 o'clock, at about which time her attention had been attracted by the child's screams, the mother had gone into the yard, and Clara Bruening, a neighbor, testified that she had heard a woman's scream. Further than this it is not known in what manner the woman met her death, although it is supposed that she saw the child fall in and in attempting to rescue him she had herself slipped and plunged head foremost into the water, which is about ten feet deep. It could not be ascertained just how long the bodies had been in the cistern.

Mrs. Werris was a young woman, only 25 years of age, and was in a delicate condition at the time of her death. She is survived by her husband and one son.

Coroner Reynolds was notified by telephone and went to Chapin on the 1:43 o'clock train. He empaneled a jury consisting of W. H. Fisher, foreman; T. R. Mathers, John Dickens, J. M. Gard, Charles Bonnett and W. A. McVay, clerk. The inquest was held at 3 o'clock at the Werris home, seven miles northwest of Chapin, and after hearing the testimony of Emma Vannier, Martin Wohler and Clara Bruening, the jury returned a verdict that Mrs. Cora Werris had come to her death by accidental drowning while in the act of rescuing her child who had fallen into the cistern. And that the child, Glen Werris, had come to his death by accidentally falling into the cistern.

A CORRECTION.

In the report of the city council proceedings Thursday the credit for repaying the refunding bond ordinance was given to the city attorney when it should have been given to S. B. Stewart, the city clerk.

The ordinance has been prepared with a great deal of care and is an instrument that requires great pains and calls for very careful work.

TO KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.

Is the Only Possible Way of Having An Effective Cure.

If you see a woman with luxuriant glossy hair, you may be sure neither has dandruff nor is she about to get it. In nearly every case where women and men have thin brittle hair, they owe it to dandruff. There are hundreds of preparations that "claim" to cure dandruff, but not one but Newbro's Herpicide tells you that dandruff is the result of a germ burrowing into the scalp, and that permanent cure of dandruff and its consequences, falling and baldness, can only be had by killing the germ; and there is no other preparation that will destroy that germ but Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, and you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

ACADEMY HALL

MAY BE SOLD

President Barnes Has Offered Property to Father Crowe.

President Clifford W. Barnes, of Illinois college, recently called upon Father Crowe and offered for sale the ground and building known as Academy hall. After considering the proposition and looking over the academy building Father Crowe yesterday offered President Barnes $35,000 for the property.

The above is the substance of a conversation had with Father Crowe by a Journal representative Friday afternoon.

So far as is known no agreement has been reached regarding the transaction, but Father Crowe stated that should the price offered by him be accepted the site of Academy hall would in all probability become the location for the Catholic college.

It is understood that should the above transaction be consummated that a new girls' dormitory for the Illinois college would be erected in the neighborhood of the Illinois college campus.

FORESTRY BUREAU

SECURING DATA

Statistics Will Show Comparative Growth Different Varieties Trees—Native and Cultivated—Men Here Friday.

A party of employees of the United States bureau of forestry is in the city and vicinity taking measurements and other data on the planted trees, as well as of the natural forest growth.

They started the work in this state at Roodhouse Wednesday, working north to this city. They expect to leave here this morning in two parties. One will go to Bluffs and river toward the north along the river, while the other will take the higher land between the Illinois and Mississippi rivers, the two meeting in the northern part of the state near Chicago. On their return the course will be through the eastern section of the state, circling toward Roodhouse, where the investigation will end.

The purpose of this investigation is to ascertain the comparative growth of different varieties of trees, both native and cultivated. The results of these observations will be used by the United States bureau of forestry in responding to inquiries for information on matters pertaining to forestry. For instance, if a farmer from this vicinity should write to the forestry department to learn what variety of tree would furnish the greatest number of posts in the shortest time, an intelligent answer could be prepared from the notes on forest growth of this part of the state. Full and complete notes will be taken and the state will be well covered.

The party is headed by R. S. Kellogg, field assistant, of Washington, D. C., and consists of E. A. Zeigler, F. J. Phillips, John Nelson and H. M. Hale, of Washington, D. C., and M. B. Pratt, of New Haven, Conn. They have already taken measurements in Central park and will also make records of trees on West State street and probably on West College avenue, Grove and other streets. The party expects to spend Sunday in the city.

fused to enact, relating to contempt in federal courts and providing for trials by jury in cases of indirect contempt.

TARIFF.

"The Democratic party has been and will continue to be the consistent opponent of that class of tariff legislation by which certain interests have been permitted, through congressional favor to draft heavy tribute from the American people. This monstrous provision of those equal opportunities which our political institutions were established to secure has caused what may once have been, infant industries to become the greatest combinations of capital that the world has ever known. The special favorites of the government have, through trust methods, been converted into monopolies, thus bringing an end to competition, which was the only check upon extravagant profits made possible by the protective system. These industrial combinations, by the financial assistance they can give, now control the policy of the Republican party.

"We denounce protection as robbery of the many to enrich the few, and we favor a tariff limited to the needs of the government economically administered and so levied as not to discriminate against any industry, class or section, to the end that the burdens of taxation shall be distributed as equally as possible.

"We favor revision and gradual reductions of the tariff by the friends of the masses and for the common weal and not by the friends of its abuses, its extortions and its discriminations, keeping in view the ultimate ends of 'equality of burdens and equality of opportunities' and the constitutional purpose of raising revenue by taxation, to-wit: the support of the federal government in all its integrity and virility, but in simplicity.

TRUSTS.

"We recognize that the gigantic trusts and combinations designed to enable capital to secure more than its just share of the joint product of capital and labor, and which have been fostered and promoted under Republican rule, are a menace to beneficial competition and an obstacle to prevent business prosperity.

"We demand vigorous and impartial enforcement of the laws already made to prevent and control such trusts and combinations, and we favor such further legislation in restraint thereof as experience shows to be necessary.

"Corporations chartered by authority of the people must forever remain subject to regulation in the interest of the people. Private monopoly is indefensible and intolerable. We recognize the right of capital, in all legitimate lines of enterprise, to combine for the increase of business for enlarging productive capacity and decreasing cost of production; but when such combination in its purpose or effect creates or tends to create monopoly in its productions, to restrain trade or stifle competition, to increase the cost to the consumer or control the market, it violates the spirit of our laws, becomes inimical to public welfare and no one should be so regulated, controlled or prohibited by law so as to protect public interest.

"We demand that the restraint of such illegal combinations be enforced by the Democratic party, which is not responsible for their existence, and which has ever protested against their continuance. The evidence of the Republican system of legislation under which trust monopolies are enabled to exact higher prices for their manufactured products from our own people than they sell them for abroad.

"We demand the enlargement of the powers of the interstate commerce commission, to the end that the traveling public and shippers of this country may have prompt and relief from the abuses they are subjected to in the matter of transportation.

"We favor the maintenance of the Monroe doctrine in its full integrity.

"We favor a liberal trade treaty with Canada.

"We favor reduction of the army and army expenditure to a point historically demonstrated to be safe and sufficient.

"We favor the maintenance of liberal annual increase of the navy as our best defense in our isolated continental condition against the foreign foe and a source of no possible danger to our liberties as a people.

"We favor the enactment and administration of laws giving labor and capital impartially their just rights. Capital and labor ought not to be enemies. Each is necessary to the other. Each has its rights, but the rights of labor are certainly no less 'vested' no less 'sacred' and no less 'inalienable' than the rights of capital.

"We pledge ourselves to insist upon just and lawful protection of our citizens at home and abroad, and to use all proper measures to secure for them, whether native born or naturalized, and without distinction of race or creed, equal protection of laws and the enjoyment of all rights and privileges open to them under the covenants of our treaties of friendship and commerce; and if under existing treaties the rights of our citizens are denied to American citizens or recognition is withheld from American passports by any countries on the ground of race or creed, we favor the beginning of negotiations with the governments of such countries to secure by new treaties the removal of these unjust discriminations.

"The Democracy would secure to surviving soldiers and sailors and their dependents generous pensions, not by an arbitrary executive order, but by legislation which a grateful people stand ready to enact.

"Our soldiers and sailors who defended with their lives the constitution and laws have a sacred interest in their just administration. They must, therefore, share with us the humiliation with which we have witnessed the exaltation of court favorites, without distinguished services, over the scarred heroes of many battles; or aggrandized by executive appropriations out of the treasuries of a prostrate people in violation of the act of congress which fixes the compensation and allowances of military officers.

SHIP SUBSIDY.

"We denounce the ship subsidy bill recently passed by the United States senate as an iniquitous appropriation of public funds for private purposes and a wasteful, illogical and useless attempt to overcome by subsidy the obstructions raised by Republican legislation to the growth and development of American commerce on the sea.

"We favor the upbuilding of a merchant marine without new or additional burdens upon the people and without bounties from the public treasury.

"The Democratic party stands committed to the principles of civil service reform and we demand their honest, just and impartial enforcement.

"We denounce the Republican party for its continuous and sinister encroachments upon the spirit and operation of civil service rules whereby it has arbitrarily disposed with examinations for office in the interest of favorites and employed all manner of devices to overreach and set aside the principles upon which civil service was established.

"We demand the extermination of polygamy within the jurisdiction of the United States and complete separation of church and state in political affairs.

"We congratulate our western citizens upon the passage of the measure known as the Newlands reclamation act for the irrigation and reclamation of arid lands of the west—a measure framed by a Democrat, passed in the senate by a non-partisan vote, and passed in the house against the opposition of almost all of the Republicans by a vote the majority of which was Democratic.

OPEN DOOR.

"We favor the preservation in so far as we can of the open door for the world's commerce in the Orient without unnecessary entanglement in oriental and European affairs and without arbitrary, unlimited, irresponsible and absolute government anywhere within our jurisdiction. We oppose, as fervently as did George Washington himself, an indefinite, irresponsible, discretionary and vague absolutism and policy of colonial exploitation, no matter where or by whom invoked or exercised; we believe, with Thomas Jefferson and John Adams, that no government has the right to make one set of laws for those 'at home' and a different set of laws, absolute in their character, for those 'in colonies.' All men under the American flag are entitled to the protection of the institutions whose emblem they bear, and if they are inherently unfit for those institutions, then they are inherently unfit to be members of the American body politic. Wherever there may exist a people incapable of being governed under American laws, in consonance with the American constitution, the territory of that people ought not to be a part of the American domain.

THE PHILIPPINES.

"We insist we ought to do for the Philippines what we have already done for the Cubans and as soon as it can be done wisely and safely for the Philippines themselves and after amicable arrangements with them concerning naval stations, coaling stations and trade relations, and upon suitable guarantees of protection to all national and international interests, to set the Filipino people upon their feet, free and independent, to work out their own destiny.

"We favor statehood for Oklahoma, the Indian territory, Arizona, New Mexico and a territorial government for Porto Rico.

"We favor election of United States senators by direct vote of the people."
